	SUBJECT: Policy Formulation
	DATE ADOPTED: 09-01-2018 DATE AMENDED: 07-27-2023 DATE REVIEWED: 07-25-2024

STANDARD:

Agencies shall have written policy, procedure, and practice governing the development, approval, monitoring, and implementation of agency policies.

DEFINITIONS:

None

DISCUSSION:

The Kansas Department of Corrections (KDOC) publishes community corrections adult intensive supervision standards in which agencies are required to create policies around. KDOC defines the standards and agencies are required to develop policy and procedure based on the set of standards.

Agencies should have a process and practice detailing how policies will be developed, approved, monitored, and implemented. Policies and procedures should be developed to reflect agency needs and evidence-based practices. The developed policy should identify the process for approving and the individuals responsible for approving the new rule. To monitor the policies, agencies should have a system, possibly a committee to identify discrepancies or fidelity issues. Lastly, agencies should have a detailed process for implementation of policies. This should include how staff will be notified of any changes along with identifying applicable education provided to staff.

STANDARD:

Agencies shall have a policy and procedure manual governing the operation and maintenance of all program components and services. The manual shall be accessible to all staff and may be in the form of electronic or paper materials. The manual shall be reviewed annually and updated as needed. The agency shall maintain documentation of each review and/or update.

Any new or revised policies and procedures shall be disseminated to staff, volunteers, and interns, prior to implementation with the date of implementation specific on the document. The agency shall maintain documentation of each notification to staff, volunteers, and interns.

DEFINITIONS:

DISCUSSION:

Manuals of standard operating procedures assist staff in successfully carrying out their assignments and ensure overall conformance to program policy and procedure. All staff should be thoroughly familiar with the sections concerning their functions. Where appropriate, policy, procedure, and service delivery should be established collaboratively with criminal justice stakeholders in order to enhance buy-in and improve public safety.

STANDARD:

Agencies shall have a range of incentives and sanctions to respond to client behavior. Written policy, procedure, and practice shall govern their use.

DEFINITIONS:

Incentive: encouragements for positive behavior provided to the supervised individual for prosocial attitudes/behaviors.

DISCUSSION:

Incentives and sanctions should be individualized, match the client's behavior, and be used in a graduated manner. A minimum of a 4:1 ratio of positive and negative consequences/corrections shall be used and documented.

Rewards can be verbal, and/or tangible, and efforts should be clear that reward structures are individualized to some extent. Rewards should also be administered immediately after the behavior is exhibited and/or the skill is learned, and/or the accomplishment achieved.

A graduated structure should be in place as well, meaning immediate rewards for "small" positive behaviors/learning/improvement, and larger rewards for graduated success like phase advancement, or program completion.

Consequences/corrections should be constructive and effective/proportionate. They can be verbal, as well as restrictive, such as privileges being taken away or some other meaningful consequence. It should be clear consequences/corrections are individualized to some extent. Consequences/corrections should also be administered immediately after the behavior is exhibited and/or the issue at hand is recognized.

Agency policy, procedure, and practice shall require a written Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) whenever the agency and another public or private entity enter a partnership. At a minimum the MOU shall outline the services, the cost of services (if applicable), and the entity responsible for the delivery of services. If the public or private entity is providing specialized programming (e.g., T4C, MRP, BIP), the MOU shall additionally include a clause that agency staff may observe client group meetings at any time with or without advance notice.

All MOUs shall be readily available to the Kansas Department of Corrections.

STANDARD:

Agencies shall have written policy, procedure, and practice governing the assignment and completion of community service work. Payment in lieu of community service work shall be prohibited.

If additional community service work hours are assigned as an internal sanction, a policy must exist stating the authority for adding such hours as a consequence for specific behaviors. The authority must come directly from the court, be authorized as a condition of probation, or be stated in a list of alternative sanctions provided to the client (approved by the court) at the onset of probation.

At a minimum, the agency shall document any approved changes of community service work hours as indicated below:

- copy of the written approval placed in the client's file
- documentation of approval entered via a contact note in the KDOC case management system

DEFINITIONS:

DISCUSSION:

Community service work hours as a sanction are not effective in changing behavior, rather it may be used as an effective alternative to more detention-orientated responses.

	SUBJECT: Performance Monitoring
	DATE ADOPTED: 09-01-2018 DATE AMENDED: 09-26-2024 DATE REVIEWED: 09-26-2024

STANDARD:

Agencies shall have written policy, procedure, and practice governing reviews of case files assigned to staff. A systematic process should be identified for how agencies will examine case files and/or conduct observations to review officers' interactions with clients. The process should identify a designated number of cases for review. These reviews should address the use of evidence-based practices, compliance with agency policy, officer skill levels, and areas in need of improvement.

DEFINITIONS:

Case review: client case file reviews performed by an administrative staff member designed to provide feedback on agency and staff performance.

Case plan: a written document included in a client's case file which is individually tailored for the client and outlines the goals, objectives, and requirements to be completed while under supervision.

DISCUSSION:

Agencies that adhere to standards of case reviews can provide staff with timely and supportive feedback relevant to their work with clients assigned to the agency. Periodic reviews help to ensure that clients are receiving the level of monitoring and services that is consistent with the agency's mission, purpose, and can be used by a director as a tool to measure agency and staff performance. Reviews offer an opportunity for coaching with staff.

Reviews should consider the following factors:

- Timeliness and completion of risk and needs assessment instrument.
- Correct selection of the client's risk level and that supervision activities and contact align with risk.
- Evidence that the results from the risk and needs assessment(s) are incorporated in the client's case plan.
- Verification that the case plan goals prioritized the correct criminogenic needs and prioritize the need that was the primary driver of the client's behavior.

Collaboration includes but is not limited to: reoccurring meetings and/or correspondence, corrections advisory board, and participation in community events and/or outreach.

Agencies shall have written policy, procedure, and practice requiring that staff have initial contact with clients assigned to community corrections supervision within two (2) business days of sentencing. If extenuating circumstances exist which prevent the supervising agency from meeting this deadline, the fact that the deadline has not been met and the reason for the deviation should be recorded in the KDOC case management system.

DEFINITIONS:

DISCUSSION:

Staff should provide clients with temporary instructions regarding specific rules, restrictions on activities and whereabouts, orientation date/schedule, and related tasks. Staff should begin the process of gathering pertinent information and setting the tone of supervision to include confirming client residence and contact information. Initiating contact with a client might occur via written correspondence, telephone conversation, personal visit, or other means that the agency determines to be appropriate and effective.

STANDARD:

Agencies shall have written policy, procedure, and practice requiring staff to develop an individualized case plan with each client within sixty (60) calendar days of sentencing.

Case plans shall be documented in the KDOC case management system and reviewed at each office contact with thorough documentation of progress or changes.

Plans shall include:

- goals
- client action steps
- progress notes

If a client's score on the risk/needs assessment places them at low risk, a written case plan is not required. However, a discussion regarding the client's strength(s) and risk areas should occur within sixty (60) calendar days of sentencing and as needed throughout the supervision period. The issues discussed shall be documented in the KDOC case management system including:

- The client's risk and needs areas based on domain scores from the most recent assessment or other available information and the steps to be taken to reduce or manage them.
- The client's strengths and protective factors and methods for maintaining and/or strengthening them.

If the client is transferred to an increased supervision level, a case plan should be completed within thirty (30) calendar days of the change in supervision level.

Case plans shall be reviewed and shared with the client upon creation and whenever changes are made. Clients shall be provided with a copy of each case plan developed and/or updated during their supervision period.

DEFINITIONS:

Prosocial behavior: having law-abiding attitudes and beliefs that encourage and support others and that discourage harmful actions.

DISCUSSION:

The case plan shall be written in such a manner that it serves as a map or guide for the supervision process, and it shall be based on the domain needs noted by the risk/needs assessment. A client shall be actively involved in the development of their plan and not a mere recipient of the plan. Case plans should be behaviorally focused on reducing risk in identified areas or to reinforce and strengthen prosocial behaviors. Keep in mind that the plan should be structured, prioritizing the “Big Four” crime producing needs (antisocial cognition, antisocial personality/temperament, antisocial associates, and family/marital) with consideration of responsivity factors.

	SUBJECT: Risk/Needs Assessment
	DATE ADOPTED: 09-01-2018 DATE AMENDED: 02-29-2024 DATE REVIEWED: 02-27-2025

STANDARD:

Agencies shall have written policy, procedure, and practice requiring that an assessment tool approved by the Kansas Department of Corrections (KDOC), be used to determine a client's risk/needs score. The assessment tool shall be scored and documented in accordance with instructions approved by KDOC. Assessment documentation must be included in the KDOC case management system and support the score.

Supervision levels are to be determined based on the client's assessed risk/need score and other objective risk management factors. Each client is to be assigned to one (1) of four (4) supervision levels: high (I), moderate (II), low moderate (III), and low (IV).

Initial Assessment

- Until an initial assessment is completed, a client assigned to community corrections shall be supervised at the highest supervision level.
- If a client is referred for pre-sentence SB 123 while the client is under current supervision, then staff may use the most recent assessment for submission on the SB 123 case, unless otherwise directed by the court to complete a new assessment.
- When the court orders supervision by community corrections during the pre-sentence phase and sentencing is delayed beyond six (6) months of the initial assessment date, staff need only to complete a reassessment and not a second initial assessment.
- If an assessment was completed by court services during the pre-sentence phase and the date of such assessment is not more than six (6) months before the probation start date, staff may utilize the court services assessment as the client's initial assessment.
- If an initial assessment was not completed during the pre-sentence phase, an initial assessment shall be completed on each client within the first forty-five (45) calendar days after sentencing.

NOTE: The standards set forth herein are intended to establish operational guidelines for community supervision agencies operating through the board of county commissioners and their employees/contractors and the adult offenders under supervision. Reassessment

- Staff shall complete a reassessment twelve (12) months after the initial assessment. Subsequent reassessments shall be completed every twelve (12) months.
- An additional assessment does not need to be completed if there is an additional sentencing prior to the scheduled reassessment.
- If a client is assessed as supervision level low (IV), reassessments are not necessary unless there is dramatic change or new information is obtained that would change their supervision level.
 - A reassessment may occur at any supervision level upon dramatic change.
 - When there is a dramatic change, consider how the change impacts other scoring elements and how strongly the change is tied to the client's criminal patterns.

All Clients

- The assessment score shall govern the movement of clients between supervision levels, except for approved overrides.

If the assessment is not completed in the timeframes required by this standard, the reason(s) for delay shall be clearly documented in the KDOC case management system.

The risk score determines the supervision level as indicated below, except in the event of other objective risk management factors which may increase or decrease the supervision level and require supervisor approval.

Supervision Level	LS/CMI Risk Score	WRNA Risk Score
High (I)	30 – 43	37 +
Moderate (II)	20 – 29	22 – 36

	DATE ADOPTED: 09-01-2018 DATE AMENDED: 02-29-2024 DATE REVIEWED: 02-27-2025

DEFINITIONS:

Dramatic change: includes behavior or circumstances that may impact a client’s risk level in a negative or positive way that warrants a reassessment of risk. Some examples of this are sustained employment or loss of employment, relapse or increased periods of abstinence, change in residence, change in family circumstances, change in criminal history, or the completion of case plan goals.

Supervision level: categorization of clients based on risk/need assessment and other objective risk management factors.

Risk/needs assessment: a tool which determines a client’s level of risk. It also identifies specific programmatic needs of clients which aid staff in the development of effective case plans.

DISCUSSION:

When completing an assessment, the rater should complete a thorough review of all available information, including verification of self-reported information (e.g., residence, school, and/or training and employment), and frequently reference scoring instructions to ensure accurate scoring of the assessment. When assuming supervision of a client whose most recent assessment was completed by another rater, that assessment should be reviewed to ensure the documentation remains accurate and supports the score. If elements have changed or the documentation does not support the score, the client should be reassessed.

Supervision Level Overrides

Community corrections professionals may request an override to a level of supervision other than that prescribed by the assessment tool if a review of all available information indicates the need for a higher or lower supervision level and documentation provides the issues or behaviors that are the rational for override consideration. Factors to consider for overrides include the following:

- current risk factors or public safety concerns
- any mental health or special management needs
- level of compliance while on supervision
- information gained from community resources, law enforcement agencies, or treatment providers

A community corrections professional requesting an override to a higher or lower supervision level is to complete an override request in the KDOC case management system. The override request is to be reviewed for approval/disapproval by a supervisor. Until an override is approved, clients are to be on a supervision level based solely on their risk assessment.

Supervision level overrides are to be removed when no longer valid or necessary.

DEFINITIONS:

Rewards: positive reinforcement for positive attitudes/behaviors.

Face-to-face contacts: in person contact between the client and the agency staff which are conducted in the client's residence, community supervision agency office, or locations in the community. Visits are to be well-planned and focused upon issues pertinent to the case plan and provision of services identified in the plan.

NOTE: The standards set forth herein are intended to establish operational guidelines for community supervision agencies operating through the board of county commissioners and their employees/contractors and the adult offenders under supervision. Override: a process that allows for the review of a client’s supervision level and may permit a client to be supervised at a supervision level other than that prescribed by the risk assessment score because of other aggravating or mitigating risk attributes, factors, or behaviors.

DISCUSSION:

Effective case management practice includes using diverse methods to verify a client’s participation and attendance in all required interventions/activities. Variation in methods helps to ensure accountability through multiple sources, and minimizes opportunities for clients to report inaccurate information, and prevents clients from becoming accustomed to a set pattern of verification. Staff should include but not limit their efforts to onsite visits; written and verbal reports from resource providers; visits with family, friends, employers, mentors, and other supportive individuals; electronic documentation; and other appropriate methods approved by agency procedures. Contacts and onsite verifications are encouraged as the need arises.

Verification of residence, employment, and programming should go beyond merely documenting the accuracy of what the client reports. Verification should include information such as the appropriateness of their residence and employment, their performance and participation in programming and at work, and if there are any noted problems that need to be addressed. Employment verification may include, but not be limited to: proof of pay stubs, contacting supervisor/human resources, and onsite visit at employer.

Consideration should be given to avoid over-supervision of low-risk clients. Significant deviation from recommended face-to-face contacts should be documented in the KDOC case management system contact notes. When this occurs, officers should be mindful of the possible need for reassessment.

NOTE: The standards set forth herein are intended to establish operational guidelines for community supervision agencies operating through the board of county commissioners and their employees/contractors and the adult offenders under supervision. Cognitive behavioral interventions addressing criminogenic factors such as cognitive behavioral tools should be utilized regularly in face-to-face contacts to affect change in high to moderate risk individuals. These face-to-face contacts provide an opportunity for supervision staff to model behavior and serve as agents of change with the client. They provide the avenue to reward and encourage prosocial progress as well as interrupt problematic behaviors.

	DATE ADOPTED: 09-01-2018 DATE AMENDED: 02-29-2024 DATE REVIEWED: 02-27-2025

STANDARD:

Agencies shall have written policy, procedure, and practice regarding placing clients on an administrative caseload. At a minimum, policies should address the criteria for placement on and removal from the caseload.

DEFINITIONS:

DISCUSSION:

Administrative supervision could be used for situations to include, but not be limited to:

- Clients who remain under supervision for the purpose of collecting fees, fines, and restitution.
- Clients who score low risk on the risk assessment and have been compliant on supervision for a minimum of ninety (90) business days.
- Clients whose interstate compact transfer request has been accepted but the client has not yet relocated.
 - Clients awaiting interstate compact acceptance should be seen in accordance with the minimum required contacts for the client's assessed supervision level.
- Other circumstances where the client is not being actively supervised but is sentenced to community corrections.

	DATE ADOPTED: 09-01-2018 DATE AMENDED: 03-28-2024 DATE REVIEWED: 03-27-2025

STANDARD:

Agencies shall have written policy, procedure, and practice requiring that agency staff complete periodic law enforcement checks to determine if a client assigned to community corrections had a negative contact with a law enforcement agency. Such checks shall be documented in the KDOC case management system.

DEFINITIONS:

DISCUSSION:

Law enforcement checks may consist of reviewing local police, sheriff, or highway patrol contact printouts, jail records, and networking with special law enforcement task forces such as those that monitor gang and drug activity. The frequency of checks may be determined by the agency and should take into consideration client risk factors and other objective risk management factors.

	Case Closure
	DATE ADOPTED: 09-01-2018 DATE AMENDED: 03-28-2024 DATE REVIEWED: 03-27-2025

STANDARD:

Agencies shall have written policy, procedure, and practice requiring identification of the criteria to be met before recommending successful completion of supervision.

Several closure types are included in the group of successfully closed cases. In addition to cases that were successfully closed, cases that were terminated due to the client's death, the client not being sentenced to community corrections, and cases that were unsuccessfully closed for any reason (e.g., closed by court, remanded to jail) are classified as successfully closed.

Agencies shall have written policy, procedure, and practice requiring supervisory approval prior to initiating revocation.

Documentation of all efforts made for the client to obtain compliance should be documented in the KDOC case management system.

Revocation case closures are comprised of cases that were revoked due to a new misdemeanor or felony case and cases revoked due to a condition violation(s).

Case closure types are to be selected in the KDOC case management system. Case closure types are defined in the KDOC case management system manual.

DEFINITIONS:

Successful completion: client's supervision is not revoked and/or remanded to the custody of KDOC.

Revocation: a judicial ruling terminating community corrections supervision or probation, resulting in either an imposition of a prison term or the unsuccessful termination of community supervision.

DISCUSSION:

Supervisory approval helps to ensure internal consistency in the management of violators. Staff can promote the use of innovative methods to respond to violations.

	DATE ADOPTED: 09-01-2018 DATE AMENDED: 03-28-2024 DATE REVIEWED: 03-27-2025

STANDARD:

Agencies shall have written policy, procedure, and practice requiring the agency follow the mandatory and discretionary transfer criteria outlined in this standard. Agencies may not create policy, procedure, and practice that is more restrictive and/or conflicts with these requirements.

Mandatory Transfer of Supervision

1. Client eligibility for transfer is at the discretion of the sending agency.
 - a. The sending agency is responsible for notifying the court and obtaining the court's permission if necessary.
 - b. The court of conviction will retain jurisdiction over the client's case.
2. If the client is deemed eligible, the receiving agency shall accept transfer if the client:
 - a. has more than ninety (90) calendar days or an indefinite period of supervision remaining at the time the sending jurisdiction transmits the transfer request, and;
 - b. has a valid case plan and is in substantial compliance with the terms of supervision, and;
 - c. (1) has resident family in the receiving district who have indicated a willingness and ability to assist as specified in the case plan, and/or;
 - d. (2) can obtain employment in the receiving district or has means of support.
3. While the sending agency determines the decision to request a client transfer or not, the receiving agency has no discretion to deny the transfer as long as the client satisfies the criteria listed above.
4. The sending agency determines if a client is in substantial compliance. If the sending agency has taken no action on outstanding warrants or pending charges the client is in substantial compliance.
5. There is no obligation of the sending agency to retake when requirements a-d are no longer met.
6. A receiving agency is not authorized to deny a transfer based solely on the fact that the client intends to reside in Section 8 housing.

NOTE: The standards set forth herein are intended to establish operational guidelines for community supervision agencies operating through the board of county commissioners and their employees/contractors and the adult offenders under supervision. They are not intended to establish state created liberty interests for community supervision agencies, or the board of county commissioners, or their employees/contractors, or adult offenders, or an independent duty owed by the Kansas Department of Corrections, Community-Based Services Division to community supervision agencies operating through the board of county commissioners or their employees/contractors, supervised adult offenders or third parties. 	DATE ADOPTED: 09-01-2018 DATE AMENDED: 03-28-2024 DATE REVIEWED: 03-27-2025

Discretionary Transfer of Supervision

1. A sending agency may request transfer of supervision for a client who does not meet criteria a-d under the mandatory transfer of supervision section when acceptance by the receiving agency would support successful completion of supervision, rehabilitation of the client, promote public safety, and protect the rights of victims.
2. The sending agency shall provide sufficient information/documentation to justify the requested transfer.
3. The receiving agency shall have the discretion to accept or reject the transfer of supervision if:
 - a. insufficient information/documentation was received to support the request or,
 - b. is able to provide sufficient reasons the transfer will not support successful completion of supervision, rehabilitation of the client, promote public safety, or protect the rights of victims.
4. If the receiving agency rejects a transfer request, the reason(s) for rejection must be provided in writing to the sending agency and documented in the KDOC case management system.

The sending agency is responsible for notifying the court of a client's transfer request and obtaining any necessary permissions.

In no instance, shall non-payment of an assessed transfer fee be a reason for denial of a request for transfer.

DEFINITIONS:

None

DISCUSSION:

Transfer of supervision should be made with the best interest of the client in mind for what will enhance the client's successful completion of supervision. In some scenarios it may be appropriate for community corrections directors to communicate with one another to discuss and determine appropriate transfers.

- identification
- assessment
- deterrence
- monitoring
- treatment
